Diss, Wymondham and Attleborough can easily be reached, where national supermarkets, schooling, entertainment, transport and health care facilities can be found. The nearest doctors surgery is located in the next village of Kenninghall. If travelling further afield there is a mainline rail service from Diss, which can be used to access either London in around 90 minutes or Norwich in around 20 minutes. Travelling by car out of the county, the A11 (dual carriageway) provides speedy access to Norwich, Cambridge and London.

Property

The Cyderies is a prominent and attractive period home which has been cherished by its owners for more than a couple of decades. The house, which has been extended in past years, displays period features that you may expect in a house of its age, whilst also benefitting from modern 'wish-list' features, such as the warming 'Villager' wood burning stove in the bright and relaxing living room and a useful en-suite shower room found off the Guest Bedroom. The accommodation comprises 4 bedrooms (all on the first floor) and two formal reception rooms, as well as a kitchen/diner facing onto the rear patio. The layout of this inviting property can be seen on the floorplan.

Outside

Driveway access from Orchard Way provides off street parking for two vehicles. Secure wooden gates open into the mature garden, which is enclosed by established hedging and offers a good degree of privacy. The garden leads to a patio area, where a large timber store shed and cabin/home office can be found.

Services

Mains water, electricity and drainage are connected to the property. Oil fired central heating.
