Property

This stylish and spacious five-bedroom farmhouse built in a Georgian style with double glazed sash windows offers well-balanced accommodation across two floors. High ceilings, decorative cornicing, and period-style picture rails enhance the sense of character and space throughout the ground floor. The south-facing sitting room is bright and airy, featuring a wood burner and double doors opening onto a sunny south facing patio and a private garden. The dining room, accessible through panelled doors from the sitting room, has a fireplace and further doors leading to the rear garden. The kitchen, complete with a range cooker with an induction hob and sociable central island, sits next to the spacious dining room, while a separate family room offers additional living space. A side hallway from the main entrance leads to a study, utility room, and shower room. Upstairs, four of the five bedrooms have en-suite facilities, with the master bedroom also benefiting from a spacious dressing room.

Outside

A private driveway leads to the farmhouse, passing a front paddock on one side and a collection of farm buildings. The driveway circles around a lawn with a mature oak tree at its centre. A sunny sunken patio area bordered by a low wall leads down to well stocked decorative fish ponds, sits on the south side of the property, complemented by a useful summer house. To the north of the house, a detached building houses a swimming pool, with an additional room above.
