This substantial detached family residence has been thoughtfully extended to create a superb, self-contained annex measuring approximately 45 sq m (500 sq ft), offering versatile accommodation ideally suited to a variety of uses. The annex would be particularly appealing for an elderly relative or couple, someone with mobility needs, or even a teenage son or daughter seeking a greater degree of independence.

We believe this property occupies one of the largest plots within The Bluebells development, benefiting from an impressive southerly-facing rear garden measuring approximately 145' max x 97'. This exceptional outdoor space provides ample room for children to play and is ideal for family entertaining, outdoor activities and relaxation.

The main family home offers spacious and well-presented accommodation throughout. The ground floor features a modern fitted kitchen with a range of integrated appliances, including two ovens, together with a generous lounge/dining room providing access to a lovely conservatory. There is also a study, which could alternatively be utilised as a fifth bedroom, along with a convenient downstairs cloakroom/WC. To the first floor are four well-proportioned bedrooms, with the principal bedroom benefiting from an en-suite shower room/WC. A family bathroom/WC completes the first-floor accommodation.

Properties offering an existing, self-contained annex with such versatile accommodation rarely become available to the market. For those specifically seeking a home with this type of additional living space, the fact that the annex is already established and ready to use provides a significant advantag
