Elegant, connected, and quietly tucked away in one of Burgess Hill's most convenient locations, Denmark House offers a lifestyle that feels both refined and effortlessly practical.

Set within an attractive converted building on sought-after Junction Road, this beautifully presented ground floor apartment enjoys the rare luxury of its own private side entrance, creating a true sense of independence away from the main communal entrance. Private off-street parking, EV charging, and a secluded private patio complete the picture, ideal for morning coffee, evening drinks, or simply enjoying your own outdoor space.

Inside, the apartment has been thoughtfully arranged for modern living, offering two generous bedrooms and two bathrooms, including a beautifully appointed principal suite with en-suite shower room. The layout balances comfort and sophistication, with bright, well-proportioned spaces designed to feel both stylish and welcoming. For those balancing city life with coastal living... the location is exceptional.

Denmark House itself offers a sense of exclusivity and quiet charm, with just six apartments within the building, creating a more private and boutique residential feel. The conversion retains the character of the original architecture while blending seamlessly with modern finishes, offering residents both period elegance and contemporary comfort.

Burgess Hill station is just a 7 minute walk away, with direct connections to Brighton in approximately 15 minutes, London Victoria in 49 minutes, and London Bridge in around 50 minutes, making this an ideal home for commuters, down-sizers, or those seeking a seamless lifestyle between town and coast.
