Finding a house share that feels like home isn't always easy. This one does.

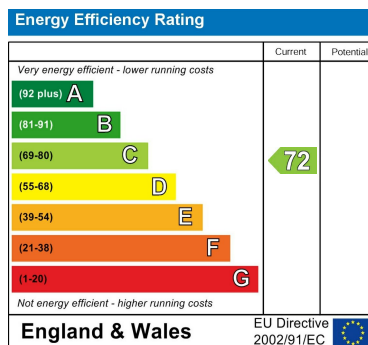

Set on a quiet residential road in Horley, this bungalow has been renovated with comfortable, everyday living in mind. With generous shared spaces, a landscaped garden and a detached studio, it offers far more than just a bedroom.

The open-plan kitchen, dining and living room is the heart of the home. It's a space to cook, catch up after work or simply put your feet up. Large sliding doors open straight onto the garden, making the whole room feel bright and connected to the outside. The home offers three spacious double bedrooms, giving everyone their own space while still feeling part of the house. The principal bedroom benefits from its own en-suite and is available for £1,100pcm including all bills, while the other two double rooms are £950pcm including all bills.

Outside, the garden has been designed to enjoy rather than maintain, and the driveway provides parking for two cars. For anyone working at Gatwick, the location couldn't be much easier. A direct bus reaches the airport in around 12 minutes, while Horley Station is approximately 20 minutes away, making it ideal for cabin crew, pilots, airport staff and other professionals.

If you're looking for somewhere with friends or colleagues, the property is also available as a whole house for £3,000pcm.
