Set within a well-established residential pocket of Quarrendon, this two-bedroom semi-detached home offers a solid layout, generous outside space and clear potential for future extension (subject to the usual consents).

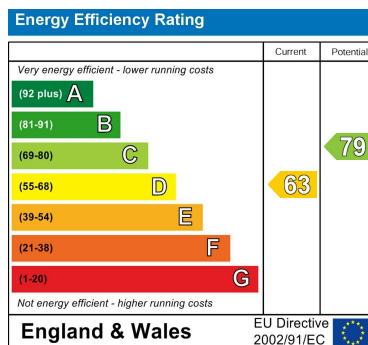

Inside, the ground floor flows comfortably with a bright living room leading through to a separate dining area, creating a sociable space that works just as well for everyday living as it does for entertaining. The kitchen sits to the rear, with direct access out to the garden, making it practical and easy to use. Upstairs, there are two well-proportioned bedrooms alongside a modern shower room, all arranged off a central landing.

Outside, the property really comes into its own. A long driveway to the front provides off-street parking, while the rear garden offers a private outdoor space with access to the garage — ideal for storage, hobbies or future conversion potential. There are gardens to both the front and rear, giving the home a balanced, open feel.

The property has recently undergone repair and improvement works and benefits from a certificate of structural adequacy, along with an associated guarantee for the completed works. For full details, our team would be very happy to talk this through with you.

Quarrendon is particularly popular for its sense of community and everyday convenience. Playing fields, local schools and green spaces are all within walking distance, while shops, medical
