With origins dating back to the 17th Century, the property has been tastefully extended creating versatile living spaces with a harmonious balance of character and modern living.

Enter into the property via a warm and welcoming entrance hallway, currently utilised as an additional reception space.

Accessed from the entrance hall, a beautifully panelled study/snug, aptly named the 'Oak Room', is an ideal place to enjoy winter evenings, with its cosy features and flame effect gas fire.

The living room exhibits the property's Georgian features with high ceilings and decorative cornicing, ideal for entertaining and family functions, especially with its double fronted wood burning stove, set in a decorative mantle.

Double doors lead through to the dining room, one of the oldest rooms in the house, complete with aged ceiling beams and original timber doors. An excellent space for dinner parties.

The spacious open plan kitchen/diner is really the central 'heart' of this home. A cream, mains gas-fired Aga is an essential in this country-style kitchen, and compliments the bespoke wall and base kitchen units, topped with timber worktops. A central island provides additional worktop space and storage, as well as an informal eating raised counter. The dining area, ideal for day-to-day family meals, offers character and charm with an exposed brick-built chimney including an original cast iron range (decorative). A utility and rear lobby are accessible from the dining space. Accessed externally, a boot/dog room makes an excellent space to clean the dogs and store items when returning from a long country walk/outdoor pursuits.

The first-floor is accessible via two sets of staircases, in the entrance hallway and dining area. six generously proportioned bedrooms are serviced by two large bathrooms.

The property's character and charm continues throughout the first-floor with exposed timber beams and trusses, and excellent views of the surrounding countryside can be enjoyed from a majority of the bedrooms.

Grounds

To the front of the property, a substantial tarmac parking area, with two gated entrances, one electric, from the main road, allows access to two areas of garaging, one to the rear of the property and one to the front of the garden.

To the rear of the property, a brick built four-bay car port has additional space for storage or a workshop, with ample parking to the front. To the front gardens, a timber structure three bay carport with gravelled access is ideal for larger vehicles/equipment.

The mature gardens include a wide variety of established shrubs, trees and flowering borders, all partially surrounded by an attractive brick-built garden wall, providing both character and privacy. An outdoor, heated swimming pool is covered with a metal and glass structure, offering year-round enjoyment regardless of the season. Heating of the pool is provided by a solar thermal system located above a large storage shed, next to the pool. Also to the rear of the property a contained courtyard and outdoor kitchen is an excellent entertaining space, and very much a sun trap in the summer months. There is an outdoor shower room, an essential for when enjoying use of the pool.

Services

Space heating and hot water are provided by an oil-fired boiler, installed within the last three years, with an immersion heater, located on the first-floor. The Aga is mains gas-fired, there is mains electricity, and mains water (metered). The property has a private drainage system located within its grounds.

nursery and both primary and secondary schools. The nearby towns of Shrewsbury and Church Stretton offer a wider range of amenities and transport links. Shrewsbury also has a fantastic selection of schools including the world renowned Shrewsbury School, attended by Charles Darwin. Other notable schools include Packwood Haugh, Prestfelde and The Priory.

The surrounding countryside offers an abundance of outdoor activities, including scenic walks, cycling routes, and horse riding, making it ideal for those who enjoy nature.

With excellent transport links and easy access to the A49 and M54, the property is well-connected for commuters, while also offering a sense of seclusion and privacy.
