The parish is protected by the Metropolitan Green Belt, made up of mostly rural and agricultural land, with a scattering of farms and cottages, and crossed by streams which feed into the River Rom.
St. Mary’s Church is the heart of the parish, with the oldest artefact dating back to the 14th Century. The bells were also cast at the famous Whitechapel Foundry, the same place as Big Ben. Today, the church offers regular services, events and activities for the entire community of Stapleford Abbotts. The Rabbits Country Pub offers a range of well-loved homemade British dishes, real ales and fine wines, and the Top Oak pub has recently been refurbished and offers quality food and drink, an al fresco dining terrace, and regular live music and entertainment. Stapleford Abbotts benefits from a convenience store, a dairy products shop, a health food shop, and many more found in the neighbouring towns. There is also a primary school and many sports clubs, including a private golf complex with 2 18-hole courses and a 9-hole par 3 course.
