REAR GARDEN

The rear garden is a particular feature of the property being very well proportioned, level and enjoying pleasant rural views. The rear garden is accessed via either side of the property via pedestrian gates or directly from the Rear hall/Utility room. There's a very pleasant patio area directly outside the Utility room with plenty of space for table and chairs. This area leads across to the generous lawn which runs to the furthest border of the garden. To the side there's a further stone chipped area with space for picnic bench with a raised timber vegetable plot. To the further side of the property there's pedestrian access back to the front of the property, with an attached storage building and boiler room to the side of the property.

LOCATION

The village of Ashton offers a peaceful, semi-rural setting while remaining within touching distance of the south Cornish coastline. Surrounded by open countryside and a patchwork of farmland, the area is particularly appealing to those seeking a quieter pace of life without feeling isolated. The ever popular Praa sands with its golden sandy beach is just over two miles distant, whilst other nearby coastal spots such as Poldhu Cove and Gunwalloe Church Cove are just a short drive away, meaning access to sandy beaches, scenic walks, and some of the county's most unspoilt shoreline is right on your doorstep.

Within the village itself, there is a well-regarded local pub and primary school. For day-to-day essentials and a wider choice of amenities, the nearby town of Helston is just a few miles away, offering supermarkets, independent shops, healthcare services, and schooling for all ages. Additional facilities can be found slightly further afield in towns such as Penzance and Falmouth.
