LOCATION

Mellanear Close enjoys a peaceful residential setting on the edge of Hayle, yet is within a 10 minute walk to the harbour and 15 minutes to the beach. The historic coastal town is steeped in industrial heritage and natural beauty. Once a thriving centre for copper smelting and foundries during Cornwall's mining heyday, Hayle has evolved into a vibrant seaside community while still retaining echoes of its past in its characterful streets and harbour area.

Today, the town offers an excellent range of day-to-day amenities, including supermarkets, independent shops, cafés, and well-regarded primary and secondary schools. Hayle is perhaps best known for its stunning three miles of golden sandy beaches, stretching towards Godrevy Point, popular for walking, surfing, and enjoying far-reaching coastal views.

For commuters and those looking to explore further afield, Hayle benefits from a mainline railway station with direct links to Penzance and connections to London, as well as easy access to the A30. The nearby town of St Ives, famed for its art scene and picturesque harbour, is just a short drive away.

Combining a rich historical backdrop with excellent modern conveniences, Mellanear Close offers a desirable setting for those seeking a relaxed coastal lifestyle within a well-connected Cornish community.
