Title register restrictions (CL320233):

- The property is subject to 'restrictive covenants' contained in a 1970 document. These are legal promises that limit what can be done with the land, such as restrictions on building or how the property is used. Your solicitor will provide the specific details of these rules from the deed.

- There is a standard legal restriction in place because the property is currently owned by multiple people. This ensures that the property cannot be sold by just one person alone, which protects the financial interests of all the owners involved.
