Oakbrook Lodge, London

A wonderful 2 bedroom, 2 bathroom apartment on the top three floors within this beautiful, iconic Gothic Mansion. The property, which extends to approximately 1046 sq ft [97 sq m], offers delightful internal accommodation with focus given to the features offered by this extraordinary building.

The heart of the property is an outstanding 27' kitchen/reception room with feature spiral staircase and four tall windows, in the Gothic style, bathing the room in natural light. The staircase leads to a stunning principle bedroom with ensuite bathroom, built in wardrobes and access to the private Castellated balcony. On the first floor is an attractive guest double bedroom with ensuite shower as well as the apartment's guest cloakroom.

The flat is provided with access to communal gardens and secure off street car parking and benefits from a long lease and a share of the freehold.

Oakbrook, referenced by Pevsner, was built in the neo-Gothic c.1878 for Gabriel Samuel Brandon, a wealthy solicitor, and his family. C.1930 the house was integrated into Queen Charlotte's Maternity Hospital initially as a Nurses Home and later as an Administrative building however in recent years was converted into several private apartments after the hospital moved.
